Circular Knit
BROCHURE
Introduction
Circular knit compression garments are knitted in a tube shape on a cylinder and have no seam running along their length. Materials such as Cotton, Polyamide and Elastane are used in the production of these garments and therefore the fabrics can have different properties i.e. wick away moisture or have a cooling effect.

Compression garments work by creating a pressure gradient, which helps to increase the flow of fluid away from the area where it is accumulating. Circular knit compression garments are used on a normal limb shape and can help reduce the pain and swelling associated with early to mild stages of lymphoedema, when swelling is moderate, and for people who have compromised venous return or chronic venous insufficiency.

Circular knit hosiery tends to be thinner than flat knit garments and hence can be more cosmetically accepted by many wearers.
Our product styles and where to measure

When wearing compression stockings, it’s important to get the correct fit so that the patient’s legs can benefit from the compression being given.

That’s why at SIGVARIS GROUP, each product requires specific measurements at certain points to allow the patient to get the best fit for their legs. Those measurements will depend on what style of garment they require.

The diagrams to the right explain what styles are available and where you would need to take the measurements depending on product choice.

How to order our products

With all of the different styles, types and sizes available, there are lots of different products from which to choose.

To make things easier, there are a couple of ways to make sure you are ordering the correct product.

1. Product code
   - Each product has been given an individual 5-7 digit code. Once you’ve worked out the size of the garment you need, reference the code tables with the details you have to find your product code.*

2. EMIS Search Tip
   - EMIS is a clinical IT system which is the most widely used primary care portal in the UK. The EMIS search is built up of individual parts (tips) which help you to find your product. There are 6 to 7 tips which you will potentially need.
   - Below is an example of an EMIS Search tip for the following product:

   EMIS Search Tip

   Essential Thermoregulating in Class 2, Thigh with knobbed grip top, Small, Long in Nature with Closed toe

   You can download the EMIS Search Tips via our website or can also get them in our prescription catalogue.

Size, shape and function of the limb are important factors which have been taken into account along with the patient’s build e.g. tall, short. The interaction of the garment against the skin and type of fabrics used are also key factors to consider hence the need for different sizing charts.

The SIGVARIS sizing charts have been adapted to give the wearer maximum comfort and support. Size, shape and function of the limb are important factors which have been taken into account along with the patient’s build e.g. tall, short. The interaction of the garment against the skin and type of fabrics used are also key factors to consider hence the need for different sizing charts.

Please be aware that the measurements given in these tables below, are shown in a size range based on AFNOR products for male and female users. Not all sizes and styles are available for all products. Please make sure to check our main prescription catalogue for all product measurements, sizes and styles.

Our compression classes

The most beneficial compression socks are “graduated” as opposed to “uniform” in strength. Graduated compression socks are more compressive at the ankle than they are at the top. The graduation helps push blood back up toward the heart, aiding circulation.

SIGVARIS medical compression stockings are available in AFNOR and RAL compression standards with stringent defined procedures on how to produce and test. AFNOR products generally have a soft feel and offer low to medium levels of medical compression with the range anatomically shaped for men and women. RAL products can offer higher compression levels and very often are unisex garments with some products consisting of firmer, more supportive materials.
Essential Comfortable

Combine all day comfort with the advantage of easily getting on and off. Suits suited for the containment of oedema, early stage lymphoedemas and preventing venous ulcers.
